Extension Sawmill, Log Marketing Clinics To Be Held Next Week

Logs, labor and lumber will form the basis for discussion at the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service sawmill and pulpwood marketing clinics next week in Grayling, Newberry and Iron Mountain.

Willard Bosserman, Extension natural resource agent in Roscommon and Crawford counties, said the series of clinics will be held April 26 through 29.

The programs will provide an opportunity for loggers and sawmillers to get together in the morning session and luncheon, and then meet in separate groups in the afternoon.

The opening sessions will be held in Grayling Wednesday, April 26, at the Chief Shoppenagon Hotel. Plant tours of either the Bear Archery plant or the Grayling Reel plant will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the plants. Coffee and opening sessions for both groups will begin at 10:30 a.m.

Afternoon sessions for sawmill marketing will deal with topics such as problems of getting wood out of cutting areas, the pros and cons of forest products price reporting, and discussions of other marketing problems. A special session on log, labor and lumber will be conducted by extension specialists from North Carolina State and Michigan State Universities.

Bosserman says the pulpwood and log marketing clinic will deal with group action in marketing, and how electronic computers can help pulpwood producers.

The agent urges all logging industry people in these areas to attend the sessions, and get the latest information on price reporting, markets and getting the most from logs and labor.

In the laboratory testing program, the new chemical treatment succeeded in removing substantial percentages of phosphates present in samples taken from the raw waste entering the Grayling treatment plant.

Rough projections indicate the cost of the chemicals required to treat Grayling's total sewage on a full-scale plant basis would not exceed $10 per day.

State and Dow researchers who conducted the laboratory program said the odds were about eighty/twenty in favor of getting reasonably comparable results on a plant basis.

The significance of the project lies in the fact that phosphate removal from sewage is one of the primary problems that must be solved in order to improve the condition of the nation's rivers, lakes and streams. The Grayling project is a cooperative effort between the State of Michigan, the City of Grayling and Dow. The project marks the first field application of the recently developed technology.

Grayling is located on the AuSable River, a world famous trout stream which is intended to be the beneficiary of the entire project.

The Grayling City Council Monday night accepted a report on a method to remove phosphates from sewage effluent going into the AuSable River and approved a program for putting the new process into effect.

The new process has been under laboratory testing at Grayling for a three-week period by the Michigan Department of Public Health and the Dow Chemical Company.

William P. Richards, engineering consultant to the City of Grayling, reported to the council that the process and related expansion work could be installed at the Grayling sewage treatment plant for approximately $40,000. Following engineering design, construction will require from thirty to sixty days.

NEWS FROM ONECAP

ONECAP is the Community Action Project for Crawford, Roscommon and Wexford counties. We are funded under a grant to our counties from the Office of Economic Opportunity. Our activities to the present are:

PROJECT HEADSTART: Co-sponsored with the area schools this program brings pre-school enrichment to children in order that they may be better prepared for school. Included in this program are physical and dental examinations, and, if needed, treatment in order that a child from a low income background will not have to go without glasses or the proper hearing facilities in the first years of his education. Often these medical examinations and subsequent treatment mean the prevention of "slow learners," who in reality just can't see the blackboard clearly or hear the teacher properly.

Neighborhood Youth Corps: This program provides training opportunities to in-school youth and to high school drop-outs. This program means that a youth can stay in school until graduation, aided by the income of his Neighborhood Youth Corps job. If a youth has been out of school for some time the Neighborhood Youth Corps can often be a first job experience which will lead him on to a productive life. Youth are placed in the Neighborhood Youth Corps through the Community Action Programs Staff.

ON-THE-JOB-TRAINING: This program is funded through the Department of Labor. ON-THE-JOB-TRAINING is designed to provide workers with new skills where needed, to upgrade their present skills, and to meet the job needs of workers replaced by automation, dying industries, geographic relocation and other shifts in the labor market. In the ONECAP-area ON-THE-JOB-TRAINING defrays the cost of the skilled persons time as he teaches the unskilled a productive occupation. The ONECAP staff makes the initial contacts to provide further information to employers and people interested in training.

The summer HEADSTART program in 1966 brought $29,950 of your tax money back to the schools, for the children of the community. The present expenditures on NEIGHBORHOOD YOUTH CORPS and ON-THE-JOB-TRAINING are $15,534.38. This money is being spent in our community to help our youth and our underemployed, but far more important it is money which will build a better tomorrow for well educated and productive citizens.

SERVICES TO RETARDED CHILDREN: SevenCap, our sister project in Ogemaw and Oscoda counties has worked with the schools to establish facilities for retarded children. Two of the counties affected by this are Crawford and Roscommon. Presently ONECAP is working to expand this service.

The staff of ONECAP is drawn primarily from low income people in our four counties. They have been successful in aiding people get into training and other services which the community has to offer. If you have problems which we can help you with please call or write us, the above projects are past accomplishments, your needs may be future for your community ONECAP, and YOU.

Comparison . . .

An anniversary has just passed that will receive little ignition except in the history books. Fifty years ago, first Russia collapsed in revolution. For fifty years, communists have sought to build a political and economic system that would rule the world in the name of masses. How successful have they been? By the duck of industrial political and military might, communism has made enormous progress. But, the cost has also been enormous. Soviet communism is turning to be one of the great failures of all time. Fifty years of tyranny, oppression, political blundering and management have brought death to millions and suffering to more millions of people.

In a penetrating analysis of the Revolution and the Russian system, U. S. News & World Report recounts gains, the losses and what the world may expect in Soviet Russia in the years ahead. The gains have been impressive. "In 1917," reports U. S. News, "Russia as an industrial power ranked fifth in the world — behind the U. S., Germany, Britain and France. Today, Soviet Russia is second only to the United States as an industrial power. Between 1913 and 1966, the total industrial output of the Soviet Union increased by more than 50 times." This great buildup in industrial might has placed Russia at the head of the world's nations in military strength, with the exception of the United States.

But, Russian progress has been accompanied by fundamental weaknesses that are inevitable outgrowths of communism. Under Stalin, this despotism reached a magnitude almost incomprehensible to Westerners. Collectivization of agriculture brought famine. Peasants were forced into collective or state farms. Well-to-do peasants, Kulaks, were stripped of their land. Farmers resisting collectivization were killed or shipped off to Siberia. According to U. S. News, "A study by the Library of Congress published in 1959 declared 10,300,000 persons disappeared from the Ukraine. . . . Byelorussia lost 500,000 in deportations or executions . . . In the Caucasus, 422,000 were sent to Siberia or killed." Further, Great party 'purges' and 'show-trials' occurred during the 1930's. Many top leaders of the party, the Government and the Red Army were executed. . . . George Kennan, a former Ambassador to Moscow, says that Stalin killed 1,108 out of the 1,966 members of the Seventeenth Party Congress of 1934. . . . High-ranking Generals suffered a similar fate.

The chances are good that had not the United States through Lend-Lease assistance and other measures provided billions of dollars of aid, including industrial equipment, machine tools, oil refineries, railroad rolling stock, automotive equipment, etc., to the Soviet regime during and immediately after World War II, the inherent weaknesses of communism would be even more apparent than at present. As it is, many former communist nations are breaking away from Soviet control. The big question is the future. On this, Francis B. Stevens of the staff of U. S. News writes, "The basic goal of world revolution has never been renounced." "But in a world of nuclear weapons, the Soviets can be expected to be careful . . . to avoid any action which in their opinion might lead to a major conflagration. In this sense, the national interests of the U. S. and the Soviet Union seem to most analysts to be converging." Even more importantly, in Mr. Stevens' opinion, the blood and toil of communist achievements are there for all to see and, "Increasingly, the young people of the world—and the young leaders of new countries—look at the Soviet Union and decide the price is higher than they want to pay. They know there is another way."

They may even find merit in the way chosen by our Forefathers nearly two centuries ago—the way that guarantees life and liberty to the individual.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

April 20, 1944

A military wedding of more than passing interest to Grayling people took place at Camp Ellis, Illinois, April 12, when Lieut. Monica Hewitt, R. N. U. S. Nursing Corps became the bride of Lieut. Albert Fulvio of the Engineering Corps, United States Army. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain Emmett Shea, captain in the United States Army, using the double-ring service, before a flower-decked altar. The couple was attended by First Lt. Mary Riley and Lt. Emil Gatti. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Hewitt of Bay City, who attended the wedding. The Hewitt family formerly resided in Grayling and Monica graduated from Grayling High School. She is also graduate of Bay City Junior College and the Mercy School of Nursing, in Grand Rapids. Mrs. Thomas Cassidy of Grayling is her grandmother. The bride served for a year as industrial nurse at the Lacey Foundry, Bay City. She entered Army Nursing Service in 1943.

Lt. Fulvio is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Muriel Fulvio of Upper Darby, Pa., a graduate of Pennsylvania State University, now with the Civil Engineers at Camp Ellis.

The members of the Senior class of Grayling High School left Monday night on the Michigan Central for Detroit for their annual "skip day" celebration. On Tuesday, they witnessed the Detroit Tigers opening their American League season with the St. Louis Browns. Paul (Dizzy) Trout pitched a losing game to the Browns with a score of 2 to 1, before 28,000 fans at Briggs Stadium. Another interesting feature was a tour of the Detroit Free Press plant. Skip day tours for seniors are always thought of as one of the highlights of the year. Mrs. C. G. Clippert and Roy Milnes accompanied the class.

Looking forward to a post-war era when there is bound to be widespread need for the employment of the returning war soldiers, communities everywhere are making their plans to meet that emergency. A meeting was held at the Crawford County Courthouse Friday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the matter. It was called by L. Wendell Barnes, agricultural agent for Crawford and Kalkaska Counties. Present were Mr. Herbert Berg and Mr. A. Wolfinger of the Conservation Institute of Michigan State College, involved in the research studies of the need for correction of conditions not favorable to public welfare. Mr. Berg conducted the meeting and explained the need for definite post-war planning. He emphasized the planning of highway projects, public buildings, sewer systems and scores of other useful projects that require labor and will give employment. Cost of engineering plans for such public works will be shared by the Government. He called for immediate action in the adoption of plans in order to be able to present them in time to receive this proffered Governmental financial aid.

Did You Know

THAT THERE IS A BOOK OF MODERN DAY SCRIPTURE

This collection, the Book of Doctrine and Covenants was first published in 1835. Its title page bore this inscription: "Carefully selected from the revelations of God." These revelations were given over a period of years from July, 1828 to August 17, 1835. They were then approved by the General Assembly of the church for publication as the doctrine of the church. Each council of the church expressed its approval of this compilation as a collection of inspired messages of God given for the profit of all men. Additional revelations have been received by the prophet of the church as the Lord continues to speak to the present. The last to be entered was in 1968 at that General Conference, Independence, Mo. Job wrote (32:8): "There is a spirit in man; and the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding." Since this is true, we may expect that following the instructions of James (1: 5): "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him" will bring a definite answer from God in this present age of life. Thus, in addition to the ancient Scriptures which are available to mankind, there should be present-day revelations of God concerning doctrine, instructions in righteousness, and the testimony of Jesus Christ. Won't you seek your own revelation of the reality of Jesus Christ? Worship God This Week. Regards; Members of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values, a strength and a source of democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly: (1) For his own sake; (2) For his children's sake; (3) For the sake of his community and nation; (4) For the sake of the Church material which makes his life more abundant. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

ROMANCE... AND A BENT STRAW

When you're in high school and going steady, two can often live as cheaply as one. But who's thinking of economics?

What is important is that when Karen and Dave want to look into each other's eyes — while sharing a milkshake — something just has to give. Karen's straw, of course!

Through the dreamy days of this budding romance they've been learning that lesson over and over. They know how to adjust to each other's moods ... and cares ... and ambitions ... and hopes.

Have they learned the greater lesson — the one that is taught in our churches, and in those homes where religion is real? Have they learned reverence for the spiritual and moral principles on which the sacred institution of marriage rests?

Fleeting romances can endure for a while on bent straws. But honest, blossoming, maturing love demands of a boy and girl convictions that do not bend.

"Pipeline To Teachers" Wins Award

Mrs. Peggy Thompson, left, originator of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's award winning handbook, "Pipeline to Teachers," and an assistant, Jewell Yordy, look over the publication now being used by 1,000 home economics teachers in Michigan.

BITS O' TALK

Mrs. Robert Klein planned to attend the 40th anniversary of her graduation class at Macy, Indiana, last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Papendick had as their guests Sunday for last Mr. and Mrs. George Tuck of Fife Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johns of Detroit.

Wharff's Dinner Bell Inn opens soon. Watch for announcement.

General Telephone Co. employees Russell Cramer, Jerry Swift, Tom Trenary, Charles Morrison and Marvel Zimmerman bowed at the Sherman Bowling Center in Muskegon last Saturday. The Cramers were along and visited his father, Rhine Cramer, and Mrs. Cramer's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Heath and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Otting, while there.

Mrs. Peggy Thompson, director of home service, said: "We feel a major responsibility to continually serve education to the best of our ability. The teaching of home economics is becoming more complicated every day, and we are proud to have contributed a program of recognized value."

"Pipeline to Teachers" is a complete resource manual on the gas industry and its relationship to the teaching field of home economics. It is designed for use by the teacher to provide Michigan teens with pertinent and useful information on laundry methods, textiles, new developments in home appliances and food preparation.

The panel of judges for 1967, representing both education and government, evaluated entries on how well they enriched classroom teaching, met the needs of their intended audience, set high standards and helped to develop initiative and good judgement.

The teachers' manual program was started by Michigan Consolidated a year ago. And an estimated 180,000 students across the state have benefited from the material. To assure its continued value to the teacher and students, the manual is continually updated.

As its prize, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company will receive a Tiffany Vermeil Rose mounted on a walnut stand. The award will be presented to Mrs. Thompson at a special awards ceremony to be held during the American Home Economics Association Convention in Dallas late in June.

Wharff's Dinner Bell Inn opens soon. Watch for announcement.

The Misses Margrethe and Olga Nielson are due back this week after spending the winter at St. Petersburg, Florida.

Miss Kay Jansen and fellow University of Michigan students Barbara Bresler of Cleveland, Ohio and Julie Miller of Freeland spent the weekend visiting Kay's parents, the Don Jansens.
